Virtual Baguio-Benguet joint youth care group very soon

In a bid to gradually spur up the young people of the church who had been subject to restricted mobility since the onset of the current pandemic, brother Jesse Bestre, together with other youth leaders in the Baguio–Benguet area are coming up with a VIRTUAL YOUTH CARE GROUP MEETING soon.

Brother Jesse Bestre, Midtown’s youth minister, says that this virtual meet-up, though with limitations, would be better of than no meeting at all. Moreover, he believes that getting in touch with other young people around the area can greatly help sustain the bond that has been started through the conduct of regular joint care groups in the past.

At present, most of Midtown’s youth have not been in contact with each other physically or face to face. “It is a good thing that the VIRTUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL has been set up early as it is the main avenue that Midtown’s young people get to meet each other at least every Sunday” says brother Jesse.

The BAGUIO-BENGUET VIRTUAL JOINT CARE GROUP is targeted to be launched in the month of May. Midtown’s youth minister will serve as the host of this event. Meet you soon!Ω

“Our concern should not be whether God is on our side; our greatest concern is to be on God's side, for God is always right.”
